

Image caption / Employer presentation

For our client Lufthansa we are looking for several CAT A mechanics (m/w/d) at Frankfurt Airport.

CAT A Mechanic (m/w/d)

(10288)

 Place of employment: Frankfurt am Main  Type(s) of employment: Schicht / Nacht / Wochenende  Start of employment: As of now

Your tasks:

- Maintenance and repair of wide body aircrafts: A330, A340, B744, B748, B777 and aircraft parts in the scope of Line- and Base Maintenance according to CAT A EASA Part-66
- Analysis of disorders and debugging
- Change of defective parts and fluids
- Testing of operability of control and steering unit, landing gear, hydraulic systems, engines and breaks, etc.
- Testing of aircrafts and aircraft parts
- Inspection and approval of aircraft after maintenance work on structure, engines and mechanical systems within the specified internal qualifications
- Documentation of all executed tasks

Your Profile:

- Valid CAT A licence according to EASA Part-66
- Current experience in aircraft maintenance, preferably on long-range types
- Accurate and conscientious attitude of work
- Good English language skills
- Willingness to work in shifts and on weekends
- driver's license

Your advantages with us:

- Team with short communication channels
- 25 to 30 days holiday
- Customer-specific qualification and authorization

Special payment:

- Accommodation possible
- Transportation possible
- Free HF – EWIS - FTS

Contact details for job advertisement

In order to carefully review your application, we need your detailed resume with job details as well as your references and AML.

The quickest way to contact us is via the applicant button on our homepage.

Alternatively, you can send us your documents via e-mail to: bewerbung.aviation.frankfurt@argo.work

Department(s): Argo Aviation GmbH Frankfurt

Collective agreement: